

As hundreds of people made their way through the doors of the Mendel Art Gallery one last time, the mood was bittersweet.

The Mendel served as the city's premier art gallery for more 50 years.

On Sunday, that legacy ended as the doors were closed to the public permanently.

Read the article on the StarPhoenix website...